Railroad museum gets enthusiastic backing

Speaking before about 40 people interested in setting up a railroad museum in Bethel, Annie Crockett, of Bryant Pond, said Tuesday night at the Bethel Inn, "I am really quite excited about this project and I hope it will go through."

The project is still in the formative stage, having been put on track by Mrs. Crockett last year when she authorized purchase of Ed Quinn's Railroadiana collection in Gilead with funds from the Annie and Robert Crockett Foundation.

Bethel Savings Bank President Jim Delamater told the crowd that had gathered under the auspices of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce to thank Mrs. Crockett for her purchase, that Bob Crockett had worked on the Grand Trunk Railway for 50 years, in continued on Page Four

BUDGET COMMITTEE IN WOODSTOCK TRYING TO HOLD THE LINE

The Woodstock Budget Committee met Monday night at 7 p.m. in the town hall vowing to "hold the line" on spending in 1985. The selectmen concurred that this could be done. Selectman Ethel Davis reported that as of this week, "All bills are current. We don't owe anyone." Selectman Clifford York said another favorable factor was a very healthy surplus account, in contrast to some situations in past years. The tentative budget set before the committee varied very little from the 1984 budget.

Several items in the budget came under close scrutiny to make certain the proposals were feasible. Committee Chairman Emory Ryerson noted that since Route 232 would not be the town's responsibility after July the winter maintenance account for 1985 might be less than expected. Various members of the committee continued on Page Five

Four interviewed by selectmen for town manager post

The Board of Selectmen, with the assistance of a consultant from the Maine Municipal Association, interviewed four candidates for the position of Bethel town manager yesterday afternoon (Wednesday). Of the four candidates, who were selected from a list of 16 who applied for the job, one is a woman, according to board chairman Arlan Jodrey.

Mr. Jodrey said a second interview would be set up if the board particularly likes one of the candidates. In the interim, that candidate's references will be checked, he said.

The search for a new town manager began in November, when former town manager Bill Judson left to take a position in Franklin County government. He was being paid $18,000. No salary range has been mentioned publicly for a new town manager.

The search is being coordinated by the MMA, which advertised the position and collected the resumes. The selectmen have authorized up to $2,000 to pay the MMA for its assistance.

Town elections will be held on Monday, June 3, the board decided, with town meeting the next day. At issue in the election will continued on Page Four LIFTING ANOTHER THOUSAND pounds of snow up to the slopes of Mt. Abram, this helicopter spent the better part of last Friday and all day Monday replacing snow that had melted off the upper slopes of the mountain in a temperature inversion two weeks ago. The helicopter moved about 300 tons of snow.

Mt. Abram scores a first: coats its slopes with airlifted snow

It was a first in the field of snow-making in the United States. In fact, it might better be called snow-moving.

The helicopter, piloted by Joe Brigham, was averaging 1,000 pounds per lift, and averaging a round trip—from snow pile to ski slope and return—in 80 seconds. The pilot would release one side of the sling and dump the snow whenever he got over a bare spot. He worked from nine in the morning until mid-afternoon, dumping a total of about a quarter of a million pounds of snow.

Mt. Abram spokeswoman Jean Anton was delighted with the results and said that the less-than-$4,000 it cost was only one-third what it would have cost to have the mountain's regular employees move that much snow up the mountain by snowcat.

Ms. Anton said the idea for airlifting the snow was the brainchild of Mt. Abram employee Tom Reid.

With the airlifted snow in place, skiers flocked to the mountain. Ms. Anton said, "We had a really continued on Page Five

Mills tops Barth in campaign spending in last fall's state representative race

Getting elected to the state legislature is not easy, as was demonstrated by the hard-fought battle between District 49 opponents Democrat Jeff Mills and Republican Al Barth—both of Bethel. And it's not cheap.

According to figures released to The Citizen by the office of the secretary of state, winner Mills spent a total of $5,706.86 in his victorious campaign. Mr. Barth spent $3,612.14 in his losing effort.

The figures are based on reports turned in by the candidates in June, July, October and December and reflect expenses in the June primary as well as expenses for the November election.

The winner, Rep. Mills, renewed his legislative activities last week as the legislature opened its 100-day session. The first order of business was committee assignments, and Mr. Mills received a seat on the Transportation Committee, an assignment he was hoping for. He is also in line for a seat on the Low Level Waste Siting Committee.

Other area legislators got the following committee assignments: Frank Perry, Aging, Retirement and Veterans; Sue Bell, Appropriations; Phyllis Erwin, Audit and Program Review, and Fisheries and Wildlife; Joseph Walker, Fisheries and Wildlife; Bill Lawrence, Education.

State Senate committee assignments had been made earlier. Area senators and their assignments are: Don Twitchell, chairman of the Taxation Committee; Ed Erwin, chairman of the Agriculture Committee and member of the Transportation Committee.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED!!!

A Music Boosters Group has recently been started at Telstar Regional High School.

This is for everyone, parents who have children actively enrolled in band or chorus, or anyone with children in grade school or not in school, aunts, uncles, cousins—anyone in the community!

Help is greatly needed so that money can be raised for these children to take trips, have exchange concerts, replace uniforms, etc. The music budget at school provides the basics, but as a support group a booster organization can give an added push.

The first objective is a music awards banquet in April.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Jan. 16, at 7 p.m. in Room 214 (next to the band room) at Telstar Regional High School. Please come and bring a friend, the children need us.

W. Paris residents go without water

When a vehicle went off the end of the bridge over the Little Androscoggin River in West Paris village last Friday night, it required more than a wrecker to correct the situation. The vehicle ripped through the 8-inch water main that supplies much of West Paris with drinking water, and for 275 homes in that town, the weekend became memorable.

High Street resident Gwen Ellingwood said, "It was amazing. You need water so badly. You just don't think about it anymore. When you're without it, you're helpless."

 REGULATORY COMMISSION
 Notice of Application Filed with the Commission
 (December 17, 1984)

Take notice that the following hydroelectric application has been filed with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and is available for public inspection:

- Type of Application: Preliminary Permit
- Project No.: 8683-000
- Date Filed: October 23, 1984
- Applicant: Yankee Hydro Company
- Name of Project: Swift River
- Location: West Branch of the Swift River in Oxford County, Maine
- Filed Pursuant to: Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. §791(a)-825 (e)
- Contact Person: Mr. George S. Bass, P.O. Box 1961, Boston, Massachusetts 02105

Comment date: February 18, 1985

3. Description of Project: The proposed project would consist of: (1) a proposed 3-foot-high, 4-foot-long concrete diversion dam; (2) a proposed 900-square-foot reservoir impounding 11,000 gallons of water at an elevation of 1,390 feet ASL; (3) a proposed 7,000-foot-long, 14-inch-diameter conduit; (4) a proposed powerhouse containing one 99-KW turbine/generator unit; (5) a proposed 1,600-foot-long 480-volt transmission line; and (6) appurtenant facilities. The estimated average annual energy is 446 MWh.

k. Purpose of Project: Project energy would be sold to Central Maine Power Company.

l. This notice also consists of the following standard paragraphs: A6, A7, A9, B, C and D2.

m. Proposed Scope of Studies under Permit: A preliminary permit if issued, does not authorize construction. Applicant seeks issuance of a preliminary permit for a period of 18 months during which time Applicant would investigate project design alternatives, financial feasibility, environmental effects of project construction and operation, and project power potential. Depending upon the outcome of the studies, the Applicant would decide whether to proceed with an application for FERC license. Applicant estimates that the cost of the studies under permit would be $14,000.

A6. Preliminary Permit: No Existing Dam—Anyone desiring to file a competing application for preliminary permit for a proposed project where no dam exists or where there are proposed major modifications, must submit to the Commission on or before the specified comment date for the particular application, the competing application itself, or a notice of intent to file such an application. Submission of a timely notice of intent allows an interested person to file the competing preliminary permit application no later than 60 days after the specified comment date for the particular application.

A competing preliminary permit application must conform with 18 CFR 4.33 (a) and (d).

A7. Preliminary Permit—Except as provided in the following paragraph, any qualified license, conduit exemption, or small hydroelectric exemption applicant desiring to file a competing application must submit to the Commission on or before the specified comment date for the particular application, either a competing license, conduit exemption, or small hydroelectric exemption application or a notice of intent to file such an application. Submission of a timely notice of intent to file a license, conduit exemption, or small hydroelectric exemption application allows an interested person to file the competing application no later than 120 days after the specified comment date for the particular application. In addition, any qualified license or conduit exemption applicant desiring to file a competing application may file the subject application until: (1) a preliminary permit with which the subject license or conduit exemption application would compete is issued, or (2) the earliest specified comment date for any license, conduit exemption, or small hydroelectric exemption application with which the subject license or conduit exemption application would compete; whichever occurs first.

A competing license application must conform with 18 CFR 4.33(a) and (d).

A-9. Notice of intent—A notice of intent must specify the exact name, business address, and telephone number of the prospective applicant, include an unequivocal statement of intent to submit, if such an application may be filed, either (1) a preliminary permit application or (2) a license, small hydroelectric exemption, or conduit exemption application, and be served on the applicant(s) named in this public notice.

B. Comments, Protests, or Motions to Intervene—Anyone may submit comments, a protest, or a motion to intervene in accordance with the requirements of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, 18 C.F.R. §§385.210, 211, 214. In determining the appropriate action to take the Commission will consider all protests or other comments filed, but only those who file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules may become a party to the proceeding. Any comments, protests, or motions to intervene must be received on or before the specified comment date for the particular application.

C. Filing and Service of Responsive Documents—Any filings must bear in all capital letters the title "COMMENTS," "NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE COMPETING APPLICATION," "PROTEST," or "MOTION TO INTERVENE," as

If I had a dollar for every time I had heard it I would be a millionaire today. "Shut that door were you brought up in a barn?" Shutting the door today is done without hesitation as our spring-like temperatures have gone the way of the wild goose, with temperatures at this writing hovering near the low 20s.

Speaking of keeping warm—when the oil prices started to soar back in the early '70s what quickly made its advent back into our kitchens? Why the old woodstove of course!

We had an old Atlantic when I was a kid growing up and a "built-in" wood-box by the chimney corner. This was a favorite place to sit on cold wintry mornings, with a warm flannel nightgown wrapped around your legs. The stove provided a snuggling bliss, as the early morning awakening sounds and a rhythmic soprano by the nickel-plated teakettle that bounced up and down (it's bottom—red hot) as it took its usual place upon the back lid. Above was the warming oven and attached to its side was the "water tank." This was always kept filled and provided all the warm water that we needed.

My black cat vied with "Buster," our old collie, for the chance to lie on the floor in behind the stove for there they felt protected and safe from all winter chills as did we. Mother knew just what type of wood to select to "get the oven up," one that burned hot and would hold the heat for the making of those light golden brown biscuits that she made my Dad eat every night and morning. On Sundays Dad made the oatmeal chock full of plump juicy raisins and once in a while dates if the larder provided, in a double boiler atop the back cover.

Now it seems nice today to enjoy the bone warming of the old wood stove—the teakettle purrs incessantly, the cat stretches out on a mat before the hearth—our house is a home again—our memories are warmed too—all beside the old wood stove—I think I will make some biscuits.

Peace everyone—

Maude Harrington and I were very sorry that we omitted Ray, Janice, Tom and Patrick Harrington from the list of family that enjoyed the Christmas 'breakfast and tree at Maude's.

Joining Ray, Janice, Tom and Patrick for Christmas dinner were: Maude, Roy Cummings, Bethel, Clayton Bartlett, Kennebunk, Don and Pat Johnson, Laurie and Doug French, Norway, and Pat's mother, Edith Morse, Pelham, N.H. Janice's parents, T. Alfred and Cora Johnson were unable to attend. Cora is recuperating from a stay in the hospital and was unable to travel. Later in the day, Pam and Tim Devoe, Brookline, and Adam Croshaw of Auburn were up to visit them.

In that awful weather on the Friday after Christmas, Tom had to go to Portland and fly back to Frankfurt, Germany, which is about 30 minutes from his base referred to as K town.

This last Friday evening, Ray and Janice hosted the Pack 566 sliding party. About 55-60 adults and children enjoyed the sliding, the moonlight, and the bonfire, coffee, hot chocolate, and marshmallows. Afterward Shannon and Scott Sumner, Mike Boudreau, Jeff Boyle, and Howard Kimball, all of whom have taken the winter survival training, made a last-to, camped on the mountain overnight, and cooked their own breakfast the next morning. Even though it was a mighty cold night, they were warm and had a great time. What memories all of these boys will have in later years.

On the 4th Maude attended a birthday supper at Ralph Harrington's, Sunday River, in observance of Carrie's 70th birthday.

At their traditional New Year's Eve party of fudge and homemade ice cream, Ray, Janice and Patrick entertained Don and Pat Johnson, Laurie French, Norway, George and Pat Johnson, Karen, Kristen, and Kelly, Cromville, Conn., and Maude Harrington, Harlan and Gertrude Hutchins visited Maude Friday afternoon.

Joe and Muriel Gilbert have had quite a bit of company this week. Starting on Thursday, there were: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Charest, Auburn, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Charest, Mr. and Mrs. William Lauze, Mr. and Mrs. Rosaire Gagnon, Miss Liliane Lauze, Lewiston and Mrs. Jean Wade, Auburn, Saturday, coming from Lewiston were Mrs. Antoinette Demers and her daughter, Ann, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Rosaire Gagnon returned with his sister, Mrs. Jean Label of Litchfield.

THE WINNERS, and still champions, in the annual "So You Think You Know Bethel" contest sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society, are Rolly Chapman and Don Brown. The pair of history buffs bested a team composed of Cathy Newell and Merton Brown. The Selectmen met Friday morning at the Town Office and completed work on the budget for the calendar year 1985. This will be voted on at the Annual Town Meeting, March 4. Total of the budget, for accounts other than schools and county tax is $85,376.44, up 12% from last year's budget of $88,693.41 for these accounts. With an estimated increase in valuation of $5,000,000 or 43% over 1984, the selectmen felt that this was a good time to appropriate additional monies for some essential projects that would have to be done in the near future. With the additional valuation the tax rate should remain about the same as last year. Since the school payments are based on the state valuation of the towns in the district the increase in Newry's school assessment will account for a large part of the additional revenue in 1985, but since the FY 86 (July 1, 1985 to June 30, 1986) school assessment will be based on Newry's present state valuation, this increase will not affect Newry's 1985 taxes. This will mean a "windfall" for 1985. Under our present tax rate of .0114 $5,000,000 in valuation would mean $57,000 in taxes. The Selectmen felt that rather than lower the tax rate and then have a large increase next year, it would be better to appropriate added monies for projects that had been neglected in the past but needed to be done in the near future, and keep a reasonably even rate. If these projects are not done, or monies appropriated for them, this would mean a drop in the rate for 1985, but a substantial increase next year. Among the projects listed are repairs to the Sunday River Cemetery, with an additional $2,400 asked for in the Cemetery account for this.

Romeo Baker, chairman of the Cemetery Committee, has asked for an appropriation of $1,500 for the Cemetery Association. Although the Town does not presently have a Cemetery Association, Mr. Baker favors one and an article has been placed in the Town Meeting Warrant regarding this. The town has been requested to install lights on the skiway access road and this will also be voted on. A $1,000 appropriation for this. Selectman Stephen Wight pointed out that the skiway access road was in bad shape and at the suggestion of Selectmen Lee Swan $25,000 is being asked for future reconstruction of this road. The possibility of using Recreational Area Access Funds, whereby the State pays 50% and the skiway and town 25% each will be considered. Increases in Road Maintenance, Highway Equipment Fund and Town Officers Salaries & Miscellaneous accounts were felt necessary, as well as the Bethel Ambulance and Landfill Accounts. Five thousand dollars is being asked for repairs, maintenance and furnishings for the Raymond Foster School, which is to be used as the Town Office. An article will be placed in the warrant to see if the town will vote to change the name of this building to the Raymond Foster Municipal Building. Since this building is no longer used as a school, the name of Raymond Foster School hardly seems appropriate. The next meeting of the Selectmen will be at the Town Office, Monday, Jan. 14, at 8:30 a.m.

New Year of 1985 came in with snow and rain, an all round nasty day. It gave people a chance to watch the parades, Rose Bowl games and Cotton Bowl games and not get out in the storm.

Colds are quite prevalent everywhere.

Esther has been going back and forth with her grandchildren between Patsy Davis Tibbets' home and her trailer in South Woodstock.

Darin, Diane Nowlin from Florida spent the week here after Christmas. Jackie and Neal Tibbets enjoy their cousins company also. Darin and Diane flew back to Florida New Years day arriving home in early afternoon.

Portland held their New Year's parade on New Year's Eve. I watched part of it on TV. The station switched a lot so you couldn't see too much. The fireworks were visible to the end. They plan to make this a yearly event.

"Monday I called on Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barnett. He is in poor health and under the care of a doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Mason entertained at a belated Christmas party the evening of Dec. 29. NOTES FROM

Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

Snowmobile and ski-touring enthusiasts are finding excellent conditions on the Evans Notch Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest. Snowmobilers, in particular, are using the Hastings to Evergreen Valley Trail after four years of timber salvage activity that disrupted the network. The State of Maine has signed the trail and is grooming it as needed. Grooming will begin on the Evergreen to Crocker Pond segment once more snow falls. Winter recreationists interested in ski-touring, snowmobiling or winter camping may obtain maps and information at the District office in Bethel.

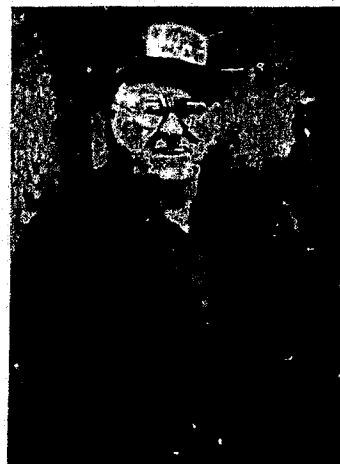

Six area individuals who have served as National Forest Fire Wardens are being recognized for their years of volunteer service with certificates of recognition of appreciation and photographs of the Presidential Range. Two wardens have retired. Emerson Clough served from 1959 until 1984 and Malcolm Wilson served from 1958 to 1983. Those still active in the program (and the year they began service) include: Richard Head (1952), Arthur Head (1960), Carlton Barker (1964), and James Layne (1972).

In other District news, Carl Bonney of Bryant Pond was recently awarded the Square Deck Timber Sale. Seven sealed bids were received, and Bonney was the high bidder. The next scheduled sale opportunity will be the Harriman Brook Sale in late March.

A timber stand improvement contract opportunity exists in Chatham, N.H. Persons interested in submitting a quote on the 67 acre project are asked to contact Wayne Millen. The contract will be awarded in late February.

Public involvement is currently requested to help Forest Service personnel better manage District and Forest lands for the owners of the National Forests, the American people. First, an individual has inquired with the District Ranger about obtaining an outfitting Guide Permit for commercial saddle-horse trips in the Wild River area during the coming summer. People interested in this potential use of the Wild River area are asked to contact Rick McVey by Feb. 7 and provide information that will be considered in an analysis.

Second, the hazardous nature of the Speckled Mountain Fire Tower is being addressed. Airplanes and coverage from State of Maine and New Hampshire towers have been used to detect fires on the

Emerson Clough

Evans Notch District since the tower was last maintained in the early 1970's. The building or cap on top of the tower consists of wood that is no longer sound and safe for use. In spite of the warning signs at the base of the tower and the removal of two flights of stairs extending to the top, individuals repeatedly scale the metal superstructure to reach the top, risking severe personal injury or death. Plans are being made to remove the tower by contract this summer. Citizens who have comments or ideas about this project are asked to contact Rick McVey by Feb. 7.

Third, comments are requested on future timber harvest opportunities and road construction plans. Once received, the comments will be given to a team of specialists that will incorporate the comments in their analysis of each project. The specific projects are located at: Wheeler Brook (south of U.S. 2); Hurricane Mountain (between Weeks Brook and Hurricane Mountain Road); and Walker Ridge (between the Mt. Meader and Baldface Circle Trails). Each project involves one to two miles of road construction and a combination of timber harvesting methods, predominantly thinning and selection cuttings. Comments are requested by Feb. 7.

Finally, copies of the Draft Forest Plan for the White Mountain National Forest are available at the District office. People interested in the future management of the White Mountains are urged to participate in the public involvement effort which ends Feb. 28.

"Old Man Winter" has come to visit us for a spell. The snow on the ski slopes should hold for awhile. Joe and Evelyn went to Sunday River ski slope and the parking lots looked like the Fryeburg fair parking lots. Everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves.

Thursday was pay day and it was a chance to meet and greet neighbors and friends. Everybody was happy with an increase in their Social Security checks.

Doris Lawrence called Joe Kalinowski on New Year's Day and it was raining in Connecticut, while we were having snow. Joe keeps busy.

Harlan and Phyllis Abbott and Joe Vatcher went to Molyckett Sportsman's meeting Jan. 5.

Callers at Lawrence's: Mr. and Mrs. "Pete" Lawrence, Joe Vatcher, Heather Mason and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., Odell Heath, Marie Kuvaja and Sandra, Jimbo Coffin, Pokey Westleigh.

Dr. Nangle, West Paris, will observe his 70th birthday on Jan. 20. Let's swamp him with birthday cards so he will forget he has a broken arm.

Joe Vatcher had electrical problems Saturday but he finally found the trouble spot. It required many trips up and down the cellar stairs to the fuse box and everything is in working order now.

Sunday afternoon Joe Vatcher took the snowmobile out for a ride on the trail. He ran into a low hanging limb of a birch tree so now he has a black eye and a rough looking forehead.

We are all geared up for another snow storm as we don't like to miss anything.

Have a good week and keep warm.

THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

The sixth annual "So You Think You Know Bethel" was held on Thursday evening, Jan. 3, as the featured event of the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society. As usual two pairs of contestants competed to see how great their knowledge is of Bethel's historical trivia. Defending their championship were Donald Brown and Rosalind Chapman representing the Sudbury team opposed by the Bethelites consisting of Merton Brown and Cathy Newell. Questions ranged from the name of the Bethel man who was the last survivor of the famous 20th Maine who distinguished himself in the Civil War (Collins Morgan) to the date of the construction of the Bethel Fire Station (1965). Competition was spirited but in the end the Sudbury team once more prevailed with a score of 141 to 108 for the Bethelites. Once again Margaret Joy Tibbets served as judge and this year's scorekeeper was Helen Morton. Society Director Stanley Howe served as moderator once again.

Following the official game Bethel team members surprised Dr. Howe by putting him on the spot with some trivia questions of their own much to the delight of the audience. He managed to answer one correctly and thus was awarded a specially designed hat for the occasion with the caption "King of Bethel Trivia."

During the business portion of the meeting Vice President Marvin Ouwinga presided. He announced that the next meeting would be Feb. 7 and this would be the annual Society film festival with three films about Maine history being featured: "Dawn of America" focusses on Maine's early history; "Winslow Homer in Maine" and "All But Forgotten, Helman Francis Day." The "Artifact of the month" was announced as a copy of Joseph Garland's "An Experiment in Medicine" published in 1960 which contains much information on Dr. John Gehring and William Bingham II. A life membership was awarded to Father Don McAlister of Norway, Dr. Ouwinga announced that a record number had joined during the 1984 membership year with 114 new additions bringing total membership to over 600. He also announced that the $7,000 endowment goal had been surpassed with over 300 contributors, an all-time record. Society Director Howe announced that at a recent meeting the trustees had approved of the creation of a part-time position as curator to care for the large number of items already in the Society's collection. This position will be entirely funded from interest received from the Society's regular endowment fund. As this fund grows with annual campaigns the increased income will make it possible to eventually fund this position on a full-time basis. Dr. Howe announced that he had appointed Randall H. Bennett, long-time Society member, editor of Sunday River Sketches and currently completing a study of Oxford County's architectural heritage to fill the position. Mr. Bennett, said Dr. Howe, is the most qualified person available with his extensive knowledge of the collections and his interest in preserving and maintaining them.

Refreshments under the general direction of Special Projects Chairman Persis Post reflecting a snow theme were served and a social hour followed.

FINANCIAL AID WORKSHOP RESCHEDULED FOR JAN. 16

Seniors and parents are reminded that the Financial Aid Workshop has been rescheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 16. This presentation will provide specific information and handouts on various types of financial aid programs, educational loans & scholarships. Candance Vinette, Associate Director of Financial Aid at the University of Maine at Farmington will speak on behalf of financial aid options and the financial process. Roger Conant of Casco Northern Bank will present student and parent educational loans. An overview of college finances and local scholarship resources will be presented by Daniel Hart, Guidance Director at Telstar. The informational workshop will be held at Telstar Regional High School commencing at 7 p.m. Refreshments will be served. Juniors and their parents are also encouraged to attend.

CHILD DEDICATION SERVICE

There will be a child dedication service at the Bethel Nazarene Church Sunday, Jan. 13, 10:30 a.m. Preston and Lorene Cobb of Bryant Pond will have their son, Preston James Cobb dedicated. The grandparents are Jim and Mary Cobb and Bernard and Laura Robbins. William and Yvonne Robinson of Bethel will have their son, Christopher John Robinson, dedicated. Grandparents are Es-ther Sweetser and Myrtle Sylvester. Rev. Gweldon (John) Johnson will officiate.

RAILROAD MUSEUM

Bethel, Shelburne and Bryant Pond, where he served as station master. "Bob, if he were still with us, would have jumped at the chance to keep this museum as part of the local heritage."

Ed Quinn, who has been getting about a thousand visitors each summer to the collection, which he keeps at his house, had wanted to get rid of the care of running the operation, but had wanted to keep the collection in the area and keep it available to railroad buffs. Through the efforts of Chamber of Commerce President Rick Whitney and Mr. Delamater, the Crockett Foundation was invited to purchase the collection, with the understanding that the chamber would work to open a museum in town to house it.

The collection includes thousands of pieces of memorabilia of the Grand Trunk Railway, which opened in 1854, with service from Portland to Montreal.

The first section of the line was opened on March 10, 1851, when an inaugural passenger train left Portland at 7:30 a.m. and arrived in Bethel at 11:05. The return trip left Bethel at 1 p.m., arriving in Portland at 4:37.

The coming of the railroad opened up the interior of Maine and spurred both logging and wood-working mills. A locally produced history of the beginning of the railroad notes that even local farmers got a share of the economic boom. In 1876, the Bryant Pond agent purchased 21,197 cords of wood from local farmers, paying them $9,683.75. They stacked the wood by the tracks, and the wood-burning trains picked it up when they passed.

Charles Chiarelli, director of the Owl's Head Transportation Museum, in Owl's Head, told the group they should consider telling the story of the economic development of the area with an informative display of the Grand Trunk Railway collection.

Any museum set up to display the memorabilia should be designed not only to attract tourists, he said, but to keep alive the heritage of the railroad and its impact on timber-based industries in the area. He stressed the need for making the museum a vital part of the community.

"The strongest support (for a museum) is community support," he said. "The strongest support is broad based."

To that end he suggested involving school children, retired persons, and local mills in developing a museum.

The chamber has been scouting around for a suitable location for a museum, and Mr. Delamater cautioned that other towns are anxious to provide a home for the memorabilia if none can be found in Bethel. "It would be nice to keep it in Bethel," he said.

be two seats on the SAD 44 Board of Directors, one selectman seat, and one assessor seat. The board had originally planned to hold the school director election in March and the selectman/assessor election in June, but had second thoughts about it.

The warrant for town meeting will be closed April 1 for any articles proposed by outside boards and individuals, the selectmen decided.

In other matters during their regular Monday night meeting, the selectmen agreed, 4-0 (Alden Kennett was absent), to pay their MMA annual dues of $1,233 for 1985.

They announced they wanted candidates for a single vacancy on the Planning Board. The vacant seat had been held by Marc Mendez, who resigned.

The board agreed to pay legal fees of $321 to the town counsel for work involved in the decade-old dispute with the Town of Newry over the boundary between the two towns. Bethel argues that the line should be 72 feet further into what is now Newry territory.

They approved having Telstar students ride along with Bethel police on night patrols as part of the school's Ride-Along program. But the approval is conditional upon getting an OK from the town's insurance agent.

Interim Town Manager Dewey Thayer told the board the log kept by the police when they're on duty, "isn't worth a damn." He has instructed Police Chief Bob Stearns to start keeping records that will indicate what the patrolmen are doing, not just where they are.

Mr. Thayer also told the board the police are complaining about—and ticketing—cars parking overnight on Main Street by the Sudbury Inn contrary to winter parking regulations. Town Clerk Merton Brown, who is on the board of the Bethel Area Health Center, said center staffers have also complained about out-of-state cars in their parking lot.

Chairman Jodrey reported that road department head Bob Davis spent $7,600 on repairs to town vehicles last month. "You've got to sympathize with Bob," said Mr. Jodrey, who has been pushing for lease/purchase of a new grader. "Are we ahead sticking with the

INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT CLUB AT SOUTH PARIS JAN. 15

Guest speaker at the next meeting of the Western Maine Industrial Management Club will be John Martin, Speaker of the Maine House of Representatives. His topic will be "Controversial Issues Which Effect Us All." The meeting will convene at 7:30 Tuesday evening, Jan. 15, at Positively Maine Street, South Paris, following a social hour beginning at 5:30 p.m. and a 6:30 dinner.

NOTES FROM THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday morning at the home of Rick Whitney. The meeting centered on a format for the evening meeting at the Bethel Inn. An agenda was established for the meeting.

Members of the Chamber have been dragging their feet on copy and payment for the upcoming booklet. The final deadline is Monday Jan. 14. Directors will contact the members again and if there is not enough interest the project will be dropped.

Director Bill Riley is compiling a lodging and dining list for NTL's early mailings. Members should send Bill a brief description of their establishment for the listing.

The chamber is also looking for a historian. Anyone interested in filling this exalted position should contact Rick Whitney. The chamber directors thanked the secretary, Wendie Gray, for her efforts over the past six months.

Next week's meeting will be at the Chapman Inn after the Christmas tree lights and decorations are taken down. The January winner of the $20 monthly coupon drawing is Merton Brown of Bethel.

TELSTAR MIDDLE SCHOOL —GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Telstar Middle School varsity girls have started off their season with their first two games against Buckfield. The first game took the team into overtime with a 20-22 win for Buckfield. High scorer was Jill Murphy with 10 points and outstanding defensive plays were made by Kristen Cushman and Brenda Taylor.

Telstar came back from vacation fired up for a rematch. This time Telstar showed their stuff with a 11-1 score at halftime and a 23-14 victory. High scorers were Buffy Taylor and Jill Murphy.

Defensive players keeping Buckfield out were November Yates, Mary Beth Hannon, Becky Witter and Lisa Jodrey.

Monday, Jan. 7, the girls traveled to Mechanic Falls to go up against a tough ninth grade team. Telstar kept pace for the first half but was no match for the older team, coming home with a loss of 8-29.

WEST PARIS WATER

Street, Maple Street, part of Main Street, Greenwood Street, and Penley Street.

Fortunately for most of the residents who found their pipes dry, the water shortage was of short duration. But for 40 or 50 homes, water was not available for 19 hours, according to Philip Edmunds, one of the town's three water commissioners.

Mr. Edmunds, together with commissioners Richard Braden and Phelps Poland, and with Wayne Estes operating a backhoe provided by Erion Hadley, worked throughout the cold night getting water service restored.

The job took longer than expected, he said, because of having to get a fitting in Gardiner, to clamp together the new pipe and the old pipe, which had different outside diameters.

Recalling the freezing temperatures and the hard work, Mr. Edmunds said, "The cold weather, night, and all that goes with it... (but) you have to go when you have a break. (And) we went right to work."

The work involved cutting out the section of damaged pipe and inserting 18-feet of new pipe. The job, Mr. Edmunds estimated, will wind up costing about $2,000.

MT. ABRAM SNOW LIFT

great weekend. And a lot of people commented on the good conditions.

Thanks to the cold temperature, the airlifted snow stayed up on the slopes, and conditions remained good right through the weekend. "It's excellent even now," Ms. Anlon said earlier this week.

Conditions became even more excellent with Tuesday morning's snow, and with another infusion of 350,000 more pounds of airlifted snow courtesy of Joe Brigham's helicopter service.

Brigham was in the air again Monday, working all day on the upper reaches of the slopes. His total effort on the Locke Mills ski slopes totalled 300 tons over the two days, he told The Citizen.

I stirred up a lot of interest in other places," he said happily. "They've been driving me crazy," he said of the inquiries he received this week from other ski resorts. Among them are Killington and Mt. Snow in Vermont; Wildcat and Loon in New Hampshire; and Sugarloaf and Saddleback in Maine. He has already signed a contract with Killington to cover some of their bare spots, he said.

He confirmed that, although airlifting snow had been tried in Canada, the operation at Mt. Abram was the first of its kind in the U.S. Total cost to Mt. Abram for the 300 tons of white stuff was $7,700, he said.

THIRTY-TWO PARTICIPATING IN ELDERHOSTEL SESSION

Sunday River Inn is hosting another Elderhostel this week with 32 participants from throughout the northeastern U.S. and as far away as Milwaukee, Wis. Courses being offered at this session are cross-country skiing taught by Mike Cooper, Roger Smith, and Steve Wight; American Paintings in Paris with Becky Bailey, and Winter Botany with Sherry Holmes. The lively elderhostellers will undoubtedly spend some time getting to know the Bethel community. Look for their identifying buttons and greet them!

The Elderhostel program operates on over 800 campuses around the world. To learn more about the opportunities offered, see the catalog at the Bethel Library or write Elderhostel, 100 Boylston St., Boston, Mass. 02116.

FRIENDLY SENIOR CITIZENS

The regular monthly meeting of the Friendly Senior Citizens was held on Jan. 2 at the North Waterford Church.

President Gene Maillet said Grace before dinner and opened the meeting with the Lord's prayer and Pledge to the Flag. Secretary's and treasurer's reports, also the annual reports were read and accepted.

Reported sick are Helen Grover, Minerva Dudley, Gladys Knight, Theresa Proctor, Genevieve Maillet and Gladys Plummer.

Mildred Howe is celebrating a birthday this month. Irving and Louise Morse are celebrating their 45th wedding anniversary.

A trip on the Songo Queen in June, through the Locks was discussed.

There will not be a meeting in February. The next meeting will be March 6, at the North Waterford Church, when Perry Munroe from Social Security will be the guest speaker.

Bridgton members will be on the pot luck dinner committee.

Remember the wearing of the green for the March meeting, also the installation of officers will take place in March.

tee agreed and suggested this might mean a new town truck might not be necessary right away. But, they were still in favor of setting aside $10,000 toward the purchase of one eventually. They also agreed the roads allocations could be safely maintained at about the same level.

There was some discussion of the situation on Lake Road. Though a survey had been taken establishing the road's boundaries, some landowners still had fences over the lines that interfered with snowplowing and access to swimming. The selectmen advocated including $5,000 in the proposed budget in case it should be necessary to go to court to settle the matter. The committee so voted.

In addition, the committee considered several other matters. They discussed the general situation regarding road maintenance. They felt road commissioners possibly too often considered the town's block grant money as available in case of a budget overrun.

They also speculated on the possibility of having a town manager - perhaps in cooperation with Greenwood. They expressed satisfaction that the new solid waste transfer station costs would fall well within projections for 1985. Finally, they agreed to an increase in salaries for the selectmen and for adequate compensation to the plumbing code enforcement officer.

The committee set the date of their next meeting as Jan. 21. They seemed confident they were making progress in "holding the line" for 1985.

WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOCIETY NOTES

Sit at the feet of history

—through the night

Of years the steps of virtue she shall trace.

—William Cullen Bryant

This verse, it seems to us, delineates a major function of history. We do not study history to learn about man's failures and mistakes. Rather, we study it to learn how to improve our lives. We can look at the past and seek to improve upon it. We can discover the accomplishments of great men and seek to emulate them. We can find out what worked and what did not. We can try to avoid the pitfalls that created problems in years past. We can refine upon our forebears' successes.

Thus history can become a useful corrective in our daily lives. By studying history, we can significantly improve the quality of the future. So let us be diligent in examining history; the dividends could prove impressive.

This week's Society program will be on Bird Hill.

CELEBRATION MIME THEATRE AT GOULD THURSDAY, JAN. 17

With the help of a grant from the Maine State Commission on the Arts and Humanities the Celebration Theatre Ensemble will perform at Gould Academy on Thursday, Jan. 17. The performance begins at 7:30 p.m. in the William Bingham Auditorium and is open to the public at no charge. The Celebration Theatre Ensemble, under the direction of Tony Montano, enjoys widespread popularity in Maine for its excellence in the art of mime.

The week's Society program will be on Bird Hill.

Rotary Club News

The Bethel Rotary Club held its regular luncheon meeting at the Sudbury Inn on Jan. 8.

Rotary Club news has not been written for the past few weeks because of the time involved in doing various Christmas projects. It seems good to be back in the groove again.

The program chairman at the Tuesday meeting was Dave Freble. His speakers were Lorraine Hall and Martha Stowell-McLean of the West Bethel Children's Center. A descriptive explanation of the scope of the program at the Center was provided to the Club members.

The Center has a staff of five and provides training and guidance to 36 children. This Center provides for the physical, social and emotional needs of the children. Thanks are expressed for this very fine presentation.

A pancake breakfast is planned for March 2, 1985. This breakfast will be served at Gould Academy. John Elliot is chairman for this program.

Bill Clough is next week's program chairman. His program will be presented by Gould students in a "Reach-Out" program.

Everyone is invited to join with Rotary at a dance at the Legion Hall in Locke Mills, on Saturday, Jan. 12. Contact any Rotarian to purchase tickets. Tickets will also be available at the door.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Municipal Officers of the Town of Bethel will meet at 7:00 P.M. on Monday, January 21, 1985, at the Bethel Town Office to hear comments and to consider an application from David P. Thurston for a Special Amusement Permit for the Sudbury Inn located on Main Street in Bethel, Maine.

Steven Gaskill, U.S.S.C.A. Nordic Director conducted a ski clinic in Bingham Hall at Gould Academy for skiers or those interested in the sport. I attended the cross country clinic along with 28 other people from various towns.

It was very interesting and informative for those who participate in a team or competitive sport or for personal pleasure.

"Thou shalt speak in words soft and sweet, for tomorrow thou mayest have to eat them," and all the time I thought it was excessive calories keeping me overweight.

The school board met with the superintendent prior to the selection meeting. The budget was discussed.

Kathy Farmer of Farmington spent Monday with her aunt, Laurie Bergeron.

The selection met Monday evening and discussed the budget and the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund. A public meeting is scheduled for Jan. 23 at 7 p.m. on these matters. March 14 is given as a tentative date for town meeting.

Richard Lecomte, first selectman, reported that as of now the town is in good shape financially and the tax rate may go down if nothing unforeseen changes in the picture. Much hinges on school expenses and Mother Nature's whims.

The Bergerons were awakened at 2 a.m. by a barking dog. They saw their blonde spaniel, Sparky, loose in their driveway and hooked to Sparky's leash was a small black dog. When Mike got outside to free the black dog, it had vanished and Sparky was back in his house. Next week, you'll read the rest of the story.

"STUDENTS OF THE MONTH"

HONORED BY TELSTAR N.H.S.

The Telstar Chapter of the National Honor Society has announced recipients of the "Student of the Month" awards at the school.

Last month's Freshman of the Month was Vicki Pingree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanwood Pingree of Bryant Pond. Vicki was nominated for her constant willingness as a library aide and by her English teacher for her dependability and excellent work in that subject.

Sophomore of the Month for December was Kevin Powell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Powell of Hanover. Kevin also received two nominations, from his French II instructor who refers to Kevin as "an outstanding student" and the other from his World Studies II teacher for his excellent test and quiz scores and superb written work.

Cathy Sue Roberge, daughter of Mrs. Constance Roberge of Locke Mills was chosen as last month's Junior of the Month. Cathy was nominated by her American Revolution teacher for work done "beyond the call of duty" and a high grade on a test.

Senior of the Month was Keith Wight this time around. Keith was also nominated in two courses. In Chem Study, Keith has earned two Ray Jewell took Mrs. Gladys Plummer to Norway and South Paris Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanwood Nelson have closed their house and gone to St. Petersburg, Fla., for the winter months.

Mrs. Geneva Tripp saw a large doe going by her house Wednesday morning. She said it slipped on the ice but finally got out of road and went into the woods. Probably snowmobiles frightened them or perhaps they are looking for food.

Mrs. Frances Grant has been busy the past week keeping her neighbors' doorways shoveled out.

Mrs. Euleta Whitney of Norway has been visiting her mother Mrs. Inez Barker for a few days. She and Vesta Nelson went to Norway one day shopping.

Mrs. Helen Grover has been confined to her home with a bad cold.

Locke Mills

— Mrs. John Mills, Corres. —

Reminder: There will be no Ladies Circle meetings during January and February.

Reminder: The dog licenses are now due. A rabies certificate less than two years old will be required.

The Boosters Club supper will be held Jan. 10. Remember to keep that date open if you plan to attend.

There was a trustees' meeting of the Locke Mills Union Church on Jan. 9 to get ready for the annual meeting on Jan. 27. The possibility of a potluck supper on that date is being discussed.

Mrs. John Mills was in Norway Friday afternoon to have a little finger x-rayed after slipping on the floor and ramming the finger into the sideboard. Fortunately it was not broken but it had to be taped for a few days.

Mrs. Diane Howe underwent gall bladder surgery at the Stephens Memorial Hospital last week and is expected to be home by the end of this week.

Vivian Chase was a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital early in the week for observation and treatment. Barbara Lewis and Lisa Fox visited her Sunday evening at the hospital.

John Mills was ill with a virus Tuesday and had to stay home from work.

The Jackson-Silver American Legion Post and Auxiliary have made a wonderful donation toward the cost of the new choir robes for the Locke Mills Union Church. In February the choir hopes to have a fund raising supper to finish paying for the robes, which, by the way, were delivered just in time for the cantata this Christmas.

Janice Gordan's little girl, Karen Elaine, who was born Dec. 11, weighing only 3 lbs. 9 oz. has progressed so well she is now at home with her mother, which is very good news indeed.

Debbie Swan and her mother, Rose Hutchins, called on Mrs. Margery Swan, Tuesday afternoon, on their way home from a shopping trip to Norway.

Mrs. Lorraine Pfandler will be spending some time with her daughter, Ann Cross, Songo Pond, during the winter months.

The town offers its sincerest sympathy to the family of Elizabeth Marshall who died Friday at the age of 100, at a Berlin nursing home. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at the Locke Mills Union Church, Rev. Michael Caldwell officiating.

The Greenwood Historical Society held its regular meeting Wednesday with 20 present at the Society building on Main Street. Most of the business centered around the upcoming Booster Club supper. A committee to head-up the supper was appointed with Blaine Mills, Roger Twitchell, Barbara Dunham, Elsworth Hathaway, Louise Twitchell and Denise Swan being selected. Blaine Mills gave a talk on the early settlement of Greenwood, Margaret Mills and Mary Mills furnished the refreshments. At the February meeting Louise Twitchell will furnish refreshments. The program for February will be announced later.

High St., West Paris

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

A cloudy Saturday morning but no snow was predicted. Don't care if there isn't as far as I go, but expect the skiers would like to see more of the white stuff.

I would like to thank all my friends and relatives who sent cards and helped me to have a nice birthday yesterday. I told them, I felt my age this year and meant it. Can't seem to get back to feeling young again since my trip to the hospital before Xmas. My daughter and her daughter came and took me to South Paris for a nice lunch and then surprised me with a gift when we got home. The best gift was to have Courtney keep saying Hi Nana. She is beginning to say more things now and is my pride and joy.

Also went shopping for a short while to get a few things I needed. Russell did the wash so I wouldn't get into any cigarette smoke and I got stamps, which I can always use, some money and some gloves that when I looked at them I said, these will never fit my big hands, but they did stretch as it said on the package. Thanks Laura, didn't know they made any big enough for hands like mine. Lawrence and Grace came down to visit in the evening for a little while and we always enjoy their company. Peggy had sent a card and money earlier in the week and I used it to order some clothing to fit. I am afraid I lost a little weight while sick and hope I can continue to lose another 10 pounds. It will look better on me then. Anyway, had a nice birthday with other cards that came and all that every one did, so thanks again.

Haven't been very ambitious this week and haven't done all that I had hoped to get done, but in good time I hope to catch up. Did take the thumbs out of a pair of mittens I had made for Courtney and got them made bigger so she could have them yesterday. Also have another hat and mitten set nearly done for her. My hands wouldn't work to knit last year and this year they are, so I am enjoying making these things for her. Also have a dolly started that I told Grace I would make for her. I have to have something to keep my hands busy and usually find something I can do craft-wise to keep them occupied.

I go to Tri-County once in a while and had some crocheted roses to give them and didn't have a vase to put them in. I took an old Pringles can I had kicking around and covered it with pieces of felt and decorated it with shells, which I had had since I went to Florida those four winters and there was my vase for the flowers. The folks down there thought it very pretty and nice. Hope one and all enjoy it and as I told them, no one has to worry about being allergic to the flowers in the vase, as they might real ones. I had made my three girls each a bouquet for Christmas and they all liked them. They can be real pretty and whatever color suits your fancy.

Had a phone call from our brother-in-law, Bernard Hutchins last night saying that Laura Hutchins, his wife is in Rumford hospital. She was here the other day and didn't sound very good, but took our parakeet to see if he was causing trouble for me. She found that he did for her and as she has the same thing I have, we are going to go get the bird and give him to a lady who wants one and says she will be glad to get him. I always loved my other bird and hate to have to part with this one but if it means breathing easier, it will be worth it in the long run. It seems one can't have the pleasures in life they want without having lots of trouble and that's the way it is with me. He doesn't bother Russell, but damn these allergies, they take away a lot of the pleasures of life and don't seem to care one bit that they do.

Had to go to Fryeburg the other morning and my appointment was at eight. It had snowed during the evening and thank the Lord not much, so we left before it was really light and got there just before the dentist drove in. He is trying to fix my dentures so the joints in my face don't bother any more and what is best of all is the fact that he has helped my sinuses. Never thought a dentist could do that, but this one sure can and am ever grateful. It was a little tricky driving in spots, but by taking it easy, we made the trip fine.

Had a short visit from Peggy's daughter, Myrna and husband Whitey. They had given me a lovely pair of slacks for Christmas that were just right. I had to accuse Whitey of measuring my legs while they were working on Peggy's slacks this fall. He told me that he sure had and knew just the right length to get. I usually have to shorten any slacks that I get, but these are perfect. We enjoyed having them stop by for a few minutes too. Hope they do it again. They said they were tired of being house bound and had to get out. Glad they came this way and stopped in.

It has been one of those weeks when I do what I can and then rest and Russell has done a lot to help, both inside and outside the house. I feel as though I was good for nothing and it isn't a good feeling at all. Hope my spirits and ambition both get going soon.

We did go visit Helen Bailey on Pleasant Street one afternoon for a little while. She had written to say she had some pictures she thought we might like and some crocheted cotton I might use. I sure use a lot during a year's time. We were glad to get the pictures also, as one of them was of our great grandfather, Sidney Hayes, and neither of us had ever seen a picture of him. I like the family pictures and it is fun to look into the genealogy of the family. Also took her up a loaf of nice zucchini and carrot bread to have as a Christmas gift, even if it was a little late.

Hope it doesn't snow today as we plan to go to East Andover and get the parakeet so he won't bother Laura any more and the lady in West Paris was glad to hear from me last night saying she could have him, so maybe it will all work out for the best after all. We sure hope so. I think my breathing has been better since he went and hope Laura doesn't have to be in the hospital many days to get over her bronchial asthma. It is no fun not to breathe good and I am sorry we ever suggested she take the bird, but she used to have some and they didn't bother. However, she is like me and has developed trouble over the years.

Got to get going so will call this enough for this time and hope all will work out all right in the future.

Greenwood City

Mrs. Cellista Morgan, Corres.

In the light that appeared across the landscape, the rays of the rising sun grew stronger. I watched it across the valley, probe among the bare treetops and on to the mountains in the west. This was like other dawns, I suppose, but it seemed to hold a new quality of its own, a new freshness of beauty. This beauty they tell us is in the eyes of the beholder.

From the window over breakfast coffee we watched the birds. It costs a pretty penny to feed these free-loaders but they pay in full. A few purple finches and a flock of evening grosbeaks, with golden breasts and black and white top feathers jostled each other on the crusty snow beneath feeders.

It was a sparkling day when every twig stood out against the sky.

Another bird which always adds a thrill to a trip to the woods, which I took yesterday, is the Northern Pileated Woodpecker.

I fastened on my snowshoes, crossed the ditch at the top of the hill and was on my way up the road to our spring. A few sticks and branches cluttered my path. The trees and thickets muted the light and so blurred the shadows.

A reddish-brown glint passed in front of me, as he was flushed from the bushes. My friend, the red squirrel, climbed the tree at the top of Fox-Hill. Did he carry an alarm clock with him? It sounded that way.

It was then that I heard the Pileated just beyond the ridge, where grew a grove of hemlock, fir, birch, beech, and maple. Some of these trees have clasped great rocks with their gnarled roots and thrust them deep into the crevices of the ledge. Some trees lie strewn along the ledge where storm winds had thrown them; their great roots flung high and branches crushed and broken. The bird rose, perched on a dead stump, and then gave his flicker-like call. I was in a position to see him and as yet he hadn't discovered me. Clearly revealed, the bird erected his blazing crest, thrust his head back, and sealed his watch tower to the very top. I hoped to see him open his wings and flash his conspicuous white markings but he didn't. With his spear-like beak he tore away bark and silvers hunting for larvae. Suddenly he was off and away and my woods-drama was over. I continued on up the hill to where our pipe line goes almost straight up. It wasn't a good snow to climb on with snowshoes, so I turned back the way I had come.

Then I turned left to go among the hemlocks. A few birds and a gray squirrel were busy here.

When I reached our drive way I continued for a time up the road and by the shed, Evergreens, which keep the land from being bleak in winter, grew all along the way. I again turned left and continued on home. It was time, time to replenish the wood stove and to take off some bread for supper.

Dinner at the Hayes Homestead on Saturday made a pleasant day for Doris because her sons, Glenn of Gray, and wife, Ardell and wife of Auburn, Duane and children, and Scot and wife of West Paris, came. Scot is a grandson.

The sisters of Doris Hayes, Verma Libby, and Lenora Waterhouse, of Falmouth, spent several days with her this last week.

Clyde and I were in Bethel Friday to visit Ernest and Ina Mundt. Pat and Zilpha DiArenzo have returned to their home here after spending Christmas with their children in Pennsylvania.

Callers at the home of Frank and Dot Curtis were Alton Kimball, Waterford; Donald Bowman, Canton; Fred and Rena Curtis, Eya Felton, Kathy Curtis, Irene Stevens, Local; Mildred Bowman, Hebron; Tommy Bragg III, West Sumner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt, Ricky and Jenny, of Windsor and Ann Holt of Bethel visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt on Sunday.

Our callers on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks, West Paris; Mrs. Eric Adams and Joshua and Jessica, Town.

Fred Curtis visited his son, Albert in Buckfield, and they spent the day, Sunday, snowmobiling. Russell Yates and Viva Whitman, West Paris, visited Doris Hayes, Sunday afternoon.

MRS. MILDRED M. LOWELL

Mrs. Mildred M. Lowell of Bethel died shortly after admission to Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, on Sunday night, Jan. 6, 1985. Born at Bryant Pond on May 26, 1902, she was the daughter of Charles and Florice Brooks McInnis. A graduate of Gould Academy, she married Linwood L. Lowell on April 23, 1924. She was a homemaker and lived most of her life in Bethel. Mrs. Lowell was a member of the West Bethel Union Church, the Ladies Chapel Aid, the Pythian Sisters, and the Bethel Senior Citizens.

She is survived by her husband of Bethel; 12 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren. She was pre-deceased by a son, Norman Lowell, and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Chayer.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the West Bethel Union Church with Rev. Norman Rust officiating. Spring interment will be at Pine Grove Cemetery, West Bethel.

MRS. ELIZABETH B. MARSHALL

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Marshall, of Gorham, N.H., formerly of Bethel and Locke Mills, died Friday afternoon, Jan. 4, 1985, at the St. Vincent dePaul Nursing Home in Berlin, N.H., after a long illness.

Mrs. Marshall was born in Upton, Maine, on April 18, 1884, the daughter of John and Polly Ellingwood Brown. She was the widow of Michael Marshall who died in 1952. Prior to her retirement many years ago, Mrs. Marshall was the cook in her husband's logging camp. She taught her children at home through grammar school grades until they entered high school. She also worked at Ecco Wood Products in Locke Mills. Mrs. Marshall was a member of the Locke Mills Union Church.

Survivors include a son, Richard E. Marshall of Concord, Mass.; a daughter, Mrs. Emmett Buckley of Gorham; two sisters, Florence Coolidge of Wilton and Mrs. Addie Burke of West Peru and Deltona, Fla.; seven grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Locke Mills Union Church with interment at Wayside Cemetery, West Paris.

MRS. KAY M. TAMMINEN

Mrs. Kay M. Tamminen died early Monday morning, Jan. 7, 1985, at her residence in Rustfield Village, Norway, following a short illness.

Born at Paris, on March 10, 1912, she was the daughter of Kalle and Margretta Heikkinen Lint. She was educated in North Paris and Rumford schools and married Elmo J. Tamminen on Aug. 8, 1934. He died on Aug. 20, 1971. Mrs. Tamminen was employed by the Penley Corporation and the Ledgeview Memorial Home of West Paris. She was a member of the Finnish-American Heritage Society of Maine.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Phelps (Joan) Poland of West Paris; one sister, Mrs. Etta Immonen of West Paris; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Andrews funeral home, South Woodstock. Interment will be in the spring at the West Paris Finnish Cemetery.

MILDRED S. WIEDEN R.N.

Mildred S. Wieden, R.N., of New Sweden, Maine, and St. Petersburg, Fla., died Dec. 23, 1984, at a St. Petersburg hospital. She was born in Wilmington, Del., Nov. 5, 1904, the daughter of Rev. Oscar and Selma (Swanson) Wieden.

She is survived by two brothers, Clifford O.T. Wieden of Presque Isle and Lindley L. Wieden of Bethel; and their families as well as the families of her predeceased brother, Lawrence.

A memorial service was conducted at the Community Covenant Church, St. Petersburg Thursday afternoon, Jan. 4, with Rev. Philip Danielson officiating.

Telstar basketball

Following losses in recent games, the boys' and girls' basketball teams will be in action against Carrabec tonight (Thursday) and tomorrow (Friday). The girls will play at Telstar tonight, while the boys will journey to Carrabec tomorrow. Both match-ups begin with JV contests at 5 p.m.

The girls lost by 14 points, 42-28, to Sacopec, there, last Friday, and lost again to St. Dom's, here, Monday, 37-27. Coach Jim Lunney said of the Sacopec game. "We were really cold."

He was more pleased by the result of the game against St. Dom's, pointing out that in an earlier outing the Rebels had lost by 30 to the Saints, whereas this week the losing margin was only 11. And the girls were in the game all the way, leading for the first few minutes of the game and behind by only 15-9 at the half. The coach praised the girls for playing well defensively and staying even with the taller Saints on rebounds.

The boys dropped their match with Sacopec last Saturday by nine points. Coach Bill Caddigan thought his troops might have been able to pull it out at the end, as they were down by only four points, with two minutes left to play.

He credited his troops with a good defensive effort in what he termed "a real physical game." A number of Telstar players fouled out, and a number went to the foul line frequently. Brandon Salway, who was high man for the Rebels, had a total of 15 points, of which 11 were from the free throw line.

The boys played St. Dom's last night (Wednesday) too late for this edition. In an earlier outing the Rebels crushed the Saints.

The training meeting this month is on the training aspects of CPR dealing with grief with the family to the logistics of starting CPR and moving the patient while continuing CPR. The meeting is set for Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 7 p.m., at Ledgeview Memorial Home in West Paris.

Tri-Town is having its booster club supper Saturday night, Jan. 26 at the Legion Hall in Locke Mills.

Tri-Town wishes the advanced first aid class success when they take their state licensing test Monday night at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Safety Tip of the Week

The number of chimney fires has greatly increased with the advent of the colder temperatures. For everyone's safety, check that chimney for build-up of creosote. A mirror in the clean-out will tell you if you can see the daylight of the sky. Area fire departments will assist with checking a chimney and/or cleaning the chimney, to reduce the number of chimney fires. West Paris has a flexible rod with a brush attached, which makes cleaning the chimney relatively easy. Greenwood fireman will check and clean chimneys for free. The firemen save a lot of work fighting fires by getting the chimneys cleaned out.

With the increase of wood burning stoves, the number of chimney fires has also increased. The air-tight varieties tend to build-up more creosote than the old-fashioned draftier variety. And green wood doesn't burn as completely, causing more creosote problems. The hotter the fire, the safer, as more of the creosote is burned up.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS MEET AT SOUTH PARIS

Oxford County Republicans braved sub-zero weather Tuesday night to meet at South Paris.

Plans were completed for the annual Lincoln Day Dinner to be held Feb. 23 at Positively Maine Street, South Paris. Committee members Nancy Sutton, Barbara Brown, Jeri Brooks, Mac Wight and Kathleen Allen distributed tickets for advance sale. Tom Murphy, new Republican House leader will be the speaker at the dinner. Invited guests of the committee will be Maine's congressional representatives and senator, State Chairman Loyal Sewall, national committee members Charles Cragin and Nancy Paine.

Rep. Sue Bell was introduced by Chairman Nancy Sutton, to talk about the 112th Legislative Session. Rep. Bell cited key issues, which placed people as their priority rather than party, and new leadership, had created enthusiasm among legislators at this session. Tom Murphy and Lee Davis, in their leadership roles are responsible for some of this new enthusiasm. Republican committee assignments are more effective and better organized. There are designated Republican lead people in each committee who act as contact people for other legislators.

Republican legislators are encouraged to come to caucuses and make suggestions. Contact and dialogue has been established with Maine congressional people.

There is a lot of talk in August about Maine's lottery, fish and game, and human services. According to Rep. Bell, Democrats are going to force Democrats to make clearer reports.

In a question period following, one county official attending said "We should call immediately for the resignation of Spike Carey as head of Maine's lottery. He is aware of what he has done wrong."

Rep. Bell cited the good committee assignments Oxford County seniors and representatives had received: Taxation Committee, Phil Jackson and Don Twitcheell; Transportation, Ed Erwin and Jeff Mills; Appropriations, Sue Bell; Fish and Game, Joe Walker.

Among key issues are the Education Act of 1984 that has no money for funding the $2,600 teacher reimbursement amounting to $27 million. According to Rep. Bell there should have been better methods for funding education than the reimbursement.

Spending issues are complex with the freeze at the federal level to get control of the deficit. Home heating, winterization are other important issues as well as fish and game accounting procedures,

MOODY - FARRINGTON ENGAGEMENT

The parents of Debra Lea Farrington and Michael Lee Moody are pleased to announce the couple's engagement and forthcoming marriage.

Debra, the daughter of Phillip and Martha Farrington of Bryant Pond is a 1982 graduate of Telstar Regional High School. Michael, a 1983 Telstar graduate is the foster son of Mrs. Jean Blanchard, also of Bryant Pond.

The couple will be married in a candlelight ceremony April 27 at the Locke Mills Union Church with the Rev. Michael Caldwell and the Rev. Raymond H. Bradley, Jr., officiating.

stated Rep. Bell. Overall, the appearances of the 112th Legislature are more pro business and conservative, with goals for more economic development, summed up Rep. Bell.

In the question period following Henry Jackson, Oxford, stated that the state employee contract passed last year had not been met to date. There was talk about the 30% pay increase of constitutional officers Rod Quinn and Sam Shapiro.

Questions were asked about Gov. Brennan's being receptive to changes in workers compensation. Rep. Bill felt he was receptive and had shown interest in changes.

Another topic discussed was tourism promotion. The need for much more promotion inland as well as in coastal areas was expressed.

March 12 has been set as the date for the next regular meeting of the Oxford County Republicans at South Paris. The April meeting will be in Rumford.
